THE SILPHO MOOR MESSAGE

Stephen Balon, of Pinnington Lancashire, is searching for the Silpho Moor disc, if it still exists, as we described in the last issue. The object crashed on Silpho Moor in Yorkshire in 1957, but its whereabouts are now not known. He very kindly sent me pictures of the object and the text of the message contained inside on copper scrolls.

Tony Wedd spoke about the disc in London in 1970:

"I was talking to someone just now about the Silpho Moor Disc, which I handled up in Scalby when I went to see it in the care of the solicitor there, Mr. Dickinson's solicitor. The impressive thing about this is that it's made of such thick copper. Imagine anyone trying to spin one-eighth thick sheet copper into that sort of shape. It just isn't on unless you have very powerful machinery, and the clincher so far as I'm concerned is that years after this had landed they'd split it open down this groove here, took out the message from inside, and then they'd written it off, someone discovered that in fact the copper wasn't a single plain sheet of copper but an inner and an outer piece, the outer being a rather fine foil very tightly bonded on to the inner, so tightly that nobody knew for years that there were two pieces of copper involved. If you're going to cook up a hoax, why go to the extent of laminating your inner and outer piece together so that no-one even knows about it.

"I am really convinced that though there are anomalies in this Silpho Moor Disc, such as them saying "No-one from space has ever landed on the earth" - this is a tall order. They may have wanted us to believe that, I don't know. I don't understand that, and I'd rather like to go back to the original translation to make sure that is in fact what was said. But there are certainly things about that disc which strike me as absolutely genuine.

"Mr. Dickinson now won't discuss the subject, he's had his leg pulled so much, and when I was there investigating this the solicitor in whose care it was was distraught, because scientists won't look at it - they say it's a hoax - the flying saucerologists are rather few and far between so he can't sell it to them, and if he puts it on show everyone will say "Of course it's a hoax, you're making money out of it!" So it sat in his attic in a little carton with the bits and pieces and every so often people come along and they hack a bit off every now and again if they want to investigate it.

"The interesting thing is how it was coded. The people who sent it claimed to be on another planet and listening to our radio. So they had English. They had a little bit of French as they mentioned hearing the song "J'attendrai" and they said they rather liked it. They rather deplored our manners generally, in fact they said their council was against their making any contact with the earth because we were rather baddies here, but they themselves, that is Ulo and his secretary Tarngee, were rather anarchistically minded, they thought they would get in touch with us via an obsolete disc that nobody wanted, rigged up just for the one way journey, and arranged to explode on landing. They told us a lot more about themselves, and how we should avoid future wars by setting up a type of United Nations organisation that would prevent it. They said "We had wars once on our planet, long long ago, and this is how we set about eliminating war".

"To code this English, not having any written script in which to do it, they made up two punches, an L shaped punch and a T shaped punch, and they used these punches in eight different positions to give a 16-cipher alphabet. On the outside of the disc they made a little table up with one dot, two dots, three dots, four dots in one column and funny little Ls and Ts in the other column. They were coding the numeral "one" with three symbols, the numeral "two" with only two symbols, and so on, evidently their way of writing one, two, etc., up to about fourteen or fifteen. In that way it was possible to decode the message inside which was on some very fine copper foil with punched symbols. It took quite a bit of decoding, because there were only sixteen letters instead of twenty-six and a little bit difficult to be sure now and again that they'd got it right.

"Well, Mr. Dickinson and two friends were going up Silpho Moor in a car when it flashed overhead, blazing. The bright light dropped down in the heather and they were very impressed - Mr. Dickinson went after it and saw it lying on the turf - a bit scared to pick it up - went back to his car and said "Well, there it is, it's a flying saucer". Of course, they wanted to go and see it too, and by the time they'd got to the spot it had gone, so of course Mr. Dickinson had a wretched time of it.

"A couple Mr. Dickinson himself had seen had picked it up and made off with it, so Dickinson put a notice in the paper saying he'd like to contact anyone who'd picked it up. A chap came in with a sack over his shoulder, plonked it down and said "Ten quid!" Wouldn't give his name, but he collected his ten quid and went, and Dickinson got his saucer back. He was convinced it was the same object - it looked the same. It's a shame the way it's been treated, with a hole gouged through the copper, it's a shambles. It appears to have had some kind of copper tube inside".

Text of the Scrolls
(from Flying Saucer Review, 1957)

My name is Ulo and I write this message to you my Friends on the Planet of the sun you call Earth. Where I live I will not say. You are a fierce race and prepare travel. No one from any other planet ever has landed on earth, and your reports to the contrary are faulty. Men cannot travel far in space vehicles owing to sudden changes in speed direction and many other reasons. They are machines, part at our "control", part "auto-control" to avoid objects in way. It is impossible to receive radio over far distances owing to natural waves in space unless key of several frequencies is used, but we can receive single frequencies from near transmitter recorder in space vehicles.

From here to end of message is written by me, Tarnee. I am since three earth years secretary for Ulo who has injured his arm while repairing space vehicle. He lost swimming race with me and I made him tell me reason. Now I write for Ulo. It is friendly if I write about our women. I am of average size. We can't tell quite about your size to compare but I am of height four times across space vehicle. If height divided into 24 units (2 times 12). Round bust 15 units (12 and 3) Waist 8. Bottom of body 13. Height of legs 12. So far as we can know appearance is some like yours. There are four women for one man and Ulo says "This is no reason to remove clothes to find measures", but he is clever and strong and pretends only to mind.

I have 20 earth years. Ulo has 42 which is not the same as earth. Then we live 126 earth years but it was not always so. We like best men that are at top strong in mind and body from age 31 to 60. We enjoy play between men and women and are not restricted, nor do we think nature bad as some parts of earth it is nearly hot with control of weather. But many grumbles that it is not good. Then our clothes are for decorate only. We have first strip round waist. On front and back is fixed strip one third part of unit wide to go through legs, and on front cloth 4 units wide and on back like cloth. Bosom are held by strip 1 unit wide round neck and under bosom. On having child clothing is more until when approaching old covering is from neck to feet.

On feet we have hard covering. Hair is long to waist except for swimming and sport when worn on head, and front and back clothes are not worn. Colours we cannot compare with yours but we are of skin colour light with sun, for houses are open to air at most times. We have rules to keep children happy and in touch with parents but they do not rely on parents so far as yours. This is good for not all parents are good and the good are too anxious.

We write on metal here so as not to burn and for electric reasons. Our script is ugly made by one stamp which is placed in different positions. "B" tilt after hitting "A" nother line is made. So a typewriter can write so quickly so talk the machine in only a small stick. (We can't use on metal). Ulo can't tell your script for we can record TV on listening to spelling competitions on radio, Ulo does not understand connection between script and sound. Then we use our adapted script which you can know by key sent. I should like to print my picture but Ulo says it would burn off. He has read this and is not glad but may let it stay. Our council do not wish communicate with earth for we are a happy race. Even mentally contact with your race may affect us, so talk the council, but they are not in so close knowledge of you as I am.

Old Vehicle for Mission

I cannot make vehicle to drop message for this needs machinery which the engineers must fit, and I cannot give them such orders without permission from the council. Then I obtain old damaged space vehicle and alter it to land without signal from ground. This will cause vehicle to break on landing but message should remain. The machinery of vehicle will be made to explode or I am disloyal to council. "C'est difficile" for I have knowledge but no machinery except for house work.

It is not likely I can soon get other broken vehicle to send other message. If I do I send code at end to tell if it from me and if vehicle is from here and not wrong message from one of your people. No one within possible range of earth except we make space vehicles.

At end not to be published I give suggests as to communication by key radio but I doubt it will work as we must use passing on stations in space for control of vehicles.

One reason I send message is I hear your music. Some is better than we can make. Some is happy though much is howling as in pain, so there are some on earth who are fine. Also many who are not fine but kind who speak on the radio. These things I do not like to have destroyed. I agree all race as is known to council is very evil but we also long ago were not so happy.

Council are wise and kind but know you as killers of each other. They do not wish to hurt you, They think it good to wait and you will improve or disappear. They may be right but by this way I hope to help you unwish doing danger to my race.

We listen now to records "Sur le point" also "J'attendrai" also Charleston now "Les amour". The council though are not believing that this understood. One of the reasons for bad understanding between your countries is no agreed one language. With your radio or TV many could be taught by one. This many made it hard for me to find meaning.

The message I give you is of the atomic energy for destruction. The bombs which the two main powers made when exploded will destroy most animal life on earth and to make it not for long habit by survivors. Any small argument may result in full war then one side after long war will wish to finish it and use atomic bombs. Even if bombs are not used there is always fear of their use and hard work and tax to pay for them. Also testing bombs is dangerous. You say there is no danger at present rate after 30 years but rate increases and that time is short. Our recording vehicles on return are sometimes found to have atoms radiating and we can't touch except by machine.

World Council Needed

A world council should be made. We found it bad to have votes for each country. Result was secret agreements and threats as to voting so result of vote was wrong. There must be council of men who belong to no country. Our council office is on small island. Council are fair judges able to find what is best for race. Not forced by any government, on their trueness rests safety of race.

If a country was attacked or in danger it at once sent message to council. (48) men which at once met and must decide in one and quarter hours (earth time) if danger is made. If yes, they order attacker to go back and if not obeyed council have fierce arms which would destroy attacker. This has not been necessary as council countries and attacker would not be able to send out or in if he disobeyed council. Council have power to take money and goods of attacker in it control and give attacked country. This is sufficient to stop attacks.

When we solved the problem there were leaders of one country who did not wish peace which would stop them get more power. Council must then stop money and goods to country when rules of council for their government are not obeyed. Goods from one country to another not to be taxed on enter or council can't control properly and it is right that all people should choose and have these goods. Countries are afraid to stop attack by big, for its houses and factories would be destroyed and its people killed by big country. Council have not buildings to loose and their people are easily protected.

Your United Nations is no good to stop even small fights but does much other good work so should be kept. You should make a race council to control fights mainly and goods too and for United Nations on these things.

I send message to Britain which may know these things better than others but I had before meant to send to larger country. Friends nature tries many times for the two make one. Seek is no harder than to make. Many seeks fail a few succeed. Nature is satisfied. Nature only starts, to guide and act is for you. If you feel it is for Nature to be grieved on but there are many successes.

I am not happy on the womens writing of Tarngee which is not object of message. Yet it would rest for her help. She has not written that she won prize for beauty of body and face and swim.

However, "mes amis", make happiness. B. Ulo
I, writer, send love and wishes. B. Tarngee.

NOTES AND NEWS

Tunguska cigar and artefact

The massive explosion in the Tunguska region of Siberia in 1908 is well known - something evidently came from space and caused an explosion that flattened trees radially and left devastation similar to a nuclear explosion. An American team from the satellite TV programme Sightings visited the region recently and gave some very interesting information on their programme:

"One eye-witness told me he was riding a stallion when he heard what sounded like cannon shots. When he looked up, he saw a body glowing like the sun. It began declining towards the horizon for maybe 15 or 20 seconds. There were many small explosions on the object. It ended with one heavy explosion. The force of the explosion was so strong that the man and the horse were knocked to the ground, fifteen miles away.

"A local spiritual leader, a shaman, said that as a young boy he was running away from the blast when he saw something fly out of the epicentre - a cylinder with sparks shooting out of it. The cylinder flew over the shaman's head and into outer space. Could this cylinder have caused the blast? (or was it a lifeboat? - J.G.)

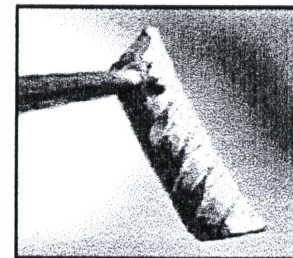

"Uri Lavbin believes he has found evidence supporting the theory that Tunguska was the site of an alien encounter gone awry. He has unearthed masses of anomalous matter.

'In the beginning we found small fragments buried deep in the earth, but there was nothing on the surface, no fragments at all. All trees collapsed and after many years everything went underground'.

"Chemical analysis reveals that these rock-like fragments have a silicon coating - the same kind of material used as heat shielding on our space shuttles. Lavbin believes these large masses are exploded fragments from the exterior of a UFO.

'It is possible that this could be a ship from another planet, an intergalactical ship that was riveted with silicon, and we found its thick walled casing, used to protect the craft from the high temperatures of the stars'.

"Lavbin's most intriguing piece of evidence, however, was not found at the crash site. It was discovered much later, embedded in one of the fragments.

'I took pincers and extracted this object. It was surrounded by crystal-like transparent and non-transparent particles'.

Has Lavbin found the first physical evidence of an extraterrestrial spacecraft? He has compared his samples with metals commonly found on earth and in meteorites. So far, there is no match. The fragment continues to undergo rigorous metallurgical testing. When analysis is complete, Sightings will report the findings to you.

Tony's manuscript located

Ever since Tony Wedd's death I had thought the manuscript Earth Men, Space Men, his compilation of contact stories, had been lost, and I produced Earth People, Space People (booklet and CD-ROM) as a kind of much smaller-scale replacement for it. (The CD-ROM version is now included in The Legacy of Tony Wedd CD-ROM, which is an electronic form of the travelling exhibition he planned).

I recently heard from Timothy Good, however, that Tony had left the manuscript with him when he went to Australia, and he still has it. I should have known as there is a paragraph in Timothy's book Alien Base in which he gives one of the stories from it, but I must have missed the significance of that paragraph when I read the book. I am hoping to see the manuscript in the near future.

The contact from the manuscript reprinted in Alien Base referred to Hubert Lewis, a newsagent cycling to Church Stretton in Shropshire on a wet, windy night in 1957 and swearing to himself about it. A tall figure appeared in the road in front of him, and a large rotating object to his right. The wind dropped and there was a localised silence during the thirty minute conversation, in which he was rebuked for his language and told that he knew of his troubles, and that this life was a probationary period for a further one. He was told he had nothing to fear if he kept calm and faithful, and that his deceased sons and wife were with him in spirit. The visitor then eventually just vanished, and it was later theorised that he could have been a projection - presumably a hologram of some kind, although these were not known about then.

Tony speaks on the Internet!

In addition to All the Planets are Inhabited (<http://www.strodes.ac.uk/atpai.htm>) there is now a Tony Wedd web site (<http://members.netscapeonline.co.uk/jimgddrd/tonywedd>). Having recently obtained some streamed audio software, I have been able to put some of Tony's voice on the site, speaking about extraterrestrial science as it has been given to various contactees, including George Adamski, Howard Menger, Buck Nelson, Wilbert Smith and others.

Unearthly Disclosure

On November 11th the Daily Mail printed an excerpt from Timothy Good's latest book, Unearthly Disclosure, published by Century. In it there were many accounts of craft which could travel in water as easily as air, and were often seen entering or leaving the water. Puerto Rico, at one corner of the Bermuda Triangle, seems to have had a particularly large number of such occurrences, including a disc seen by a diver, which retracted some kind of probe and was then seen by him to leave the water and fly away. There seemed to be evidence for an underwater base in the area. Timothy Good was a member of the original STAR Fellowship and was present at some STAR Rallies.

Talk by George Van Tassel at Auckland, New Zealand, November 1976, introduced by Russell Thorby and passed to me by R. Ashley Falk:

Part 4

I asked the Administration officials in Washington, "Why don't you tell the people? And they said, "We are not elected to tell the people anything. We are here to run this country and that is as far as our responsibility goes". And I asked the Military, "Why don't you let the people know the score, because you know the score?" They said "We are a branch of the Military of the United States. We are not elected by the people and we are not answerable to the people". So I push them a little further and I say, "Then who should tell the people?" The general answer was, "Well the Church is supposed to know about everything 'up there', they should tell them". Just passing the buck!

And of course the Churches would be the last to tell them about it, because if they came out and said "There are other civilisations out there, smarter than we are", they wouldn't have any congregations any more, because there's only Here and Hereafter! This would demonstrate more of the Hereafter. It would demonstrate people living in Space, created out there long before there was anybody on this planet. You see a lot of people on Earth who are unwilling to accept this subject. I don't have anything against the sceptic who doesn't want to accept it, but you'll also find people who are opposed to it. I even had a man on a TV show say, "If there are such things as Flying Saucers I hate them". And I said, "You'd better get your head examined, because that came out of your head. They haven't done anything to you. You are carrying hate around in your head for something you won't admit exists".

The attitude of people on earth is relative to their awareness and that is due partly to association with others through metaphysical study and through meditation. You have to do all these things of your own volition - nobody is going to force them on you. Meditation is the greatest thing in the World to help you find out about many things - especially yourself. In 1948 I conducted a group out there in the desert - no automobiles, no traffic, no noises - right next to Nature.

For 22 years we had meditation every Friday night, and people drove hundreds of miles to get there, over dirt roads, because we were finding out something, next to Nature, which would be difficult to do inside a steel structure in the City. Everything came hot and fast. We had rooms light up, brighter than this one we are in now, where the air itself became luminous. Fantastic information came through during those meditations. The people "upstairs" gave me as much advanced technology as they understood. I started "Proceedings" paper in 1953 - the next issue will be starting the 23rd year - that is a miracle in itself - that a donation supported paper should last 22 years, and any printer will tell you so. Some of the information that they gave me! Well, I printed all the data I could in that paper. It is in dated material. I had the Van Allen belt around Earth in print four years before they discovered it. I called it Earth's Force Field - I didn't give it the name of a scientist as they did when they named it Van Allen. I had the Linear Lines of Energy in Space (which make the Solar System function like clockwork) in print in 1954-5 - the day NASA and the Russian programme in Space verified the Linear Lines of Energy in Space. The top man in astronomy - Dr de Thierry of France - who was considered the Master of Celestial Mechanics in Astronomy - came to see me after analysing what I had printed, and he said, "It's the only theory of all the five that have ever been advanced which holds out - whether it is on the Moon orbiting the Earth, or on the Earth orbiting the Sun or any of the other motions in the Solar System - all respond to this theory of functioning as a motor". The whole Solar System runs as a motor.

What we are experiencing today is a fool-headed scientific monopoly of money being perpetrated for destruction. Right now the war machine of the World can't be used by business, by industry, by the housewife or the farmer - and it's the biggest investment in the World - into untold billions of dollars. And it sits there and the only people who can use it are the Military. I don't know how long they are going to sit there with the potential to destroy when our economy is based on destruction. A light bulb is engineered to burn for so many hours; your battery is guaranteed for so many months. We can build a battery that would last the lifetime of your car - they have just started to sell them in the United States. With knowledge of polyester and plastics we can produce tyres that last the lifetime of a car. We have had the ability for five years to put magnetic motors in automobiles - you would never have to buy another drop of petrol. There are patents existing right now, hidden in order to stop science creating a Heaven on Earth, because it would eliminate the class structure of economy. The downfall of this civilisation is the fact that money is power. In the United States today, if you didn't have several million dollars you couldn't think of running for President. You don't have to have it yourself - it's furnished. The Government has even passed a law now whereby every candidate running is given so much money by the Government.

I could talk to you from now until the end of next month and not cover the UFO subject. When you are getting into UFOs you are getting into something that is basic, not in conflict with any religion, colour, creed or anything else. The only thing it is in conflict with is the economy, because it would wreck the dollar and the economy if the principle of power were used. Anti-gravity alone would eliminate tyre companies, wheel companies, axles, generators, starters etc. We would not need a paving department any more because the cars would never touch the ground. We've already tested these cars in the United States, as far back as 1956. They couldn't even make two of them collide with each other - the field would repel. So you can see why the Governments have withheld the information. It isn't that they don't know, they can't present it without wrecking things. All the ability to use anti-gravity and magnetic motors alone would wreck the economy. We know how to do it, and we have done it. I know of at least twelve magnetic motors in the United States which could have been put into cars five years ago. You would never have to buy another drop of gasoline. In fact, they are using magnetic suspension and you don't need oil on the bearings or the crank case.

THE HIDDEN UNITY and BEGINNINGS

The Hidden Unity looks at the strange phenomenon of subconscious siting of ley points, and notes that places of worship, of all religions and all ages, tend to predominate on leys. The environmental and philosophical implications of this are discussed, and the apparent necessity of worship but irrelevance of doctrine. Two ley centres are given as examples, and investigated in depth - the Shah Jehan Mosque in Woking and the Guru Nanak Sikh Temple, Scunthorpe. There is an appendix by Eileen Grimshaw on the significance of the Pagan religion to this study. Illustrated with photographs, maps and line drawings. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

Beginnings is about a series of potentially useful discoveries, mainly made by Jimmy Goddard over a period of about twenty years, but having some overlap with discoveries made by others. For various reasons, the investigations are all in their early stages, and some have not been continued. They include earth energy detection, natural antigravity, subconscious siting, ley width, and the solar transition effect. There is also a chapter on cognitive dissonance - a psychological factor which seems to have been at the root of all bigotry - scientific, religious and other - down the ages. The booklet is concluded with an account of the discovery of leys by Alfred Watkins. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

EARTH PEOPLE, SPACE PEOPLE

In 1961, Tony Wedd produced a manuscript Earth Men, Space Men, detailing many claims of extraterrestrial contact. It was never published, and I had thought it was lost, though it has recently been located. To try to make up for the loss in a much more modest size, this booklet was prepared. As well as giving details of some of the more prominent contact claims, there are articles on the history of the STAR Fellowship and some of its personalities, evidence for life in the Solar System and investigation into extraterrestrial language.

£2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.
